“ There are so many great memories that I have with Justin growing up, he was funny, charismatic and fiercely protective of those he cared about. He was one of my best friends and though life got busy as we got older I will cherish our phone conversations and texts over the past years.

I will never forget that he was the 1st one at the hospital after I had a bad car accident, he always seem to be there when I needed him most. That is just the kind of person he was, and I will miss him greatly.
